Note from the Editor

Wow, February has whizzed past and now we are hurtling towards Easter and school holidays once again. February was a huge month with the spectacular By the C concert being a definite highlight. How lucky were we to be treated to a performance that we would usually have to travel to see, lets hope that it becomes an annual event.

There is a lot happening in March so remember to check out our Calendar of Events in the middle of the magazine. To plan ahead pop online to our web-page: www.whatsonfrasercoast.com.au and have a look at our monthly calender there as well. Feel free to add your own events at any time.

Please let us know if you have any events coming up, unfortunately we are unable to come to every one but you are able to submit photos for consideration for our face-book, web-page and magazine. Don't forget though to let us know where the photo was taken, when, and what the occasion was.

You may send photos to: info@whatsonfrasercoast.com.au.

Do you have a story idea, or know of something important happening in the region? if so submit it to us for consideration, if we think that it fits our magazine we may consider it for publication.

Whatever you choose to do in March, have fun and keep safe.

Have a Happy Easter

Cheers,

The Queens Baton has been passed from hand to hand between thousands of people, throughout many countries and cultures across the world, later this month it is OUR turn.

The baton relay will come through Hervey Bay, Fraser Island and Maryborough on it's way to it's final destination the Gold Coast, in time for the start of the Commonwealth Games on April 4.

The Queens Baton started its journey on March 13, 2017 on Commonwealth day at Buckingham Palace. The Queen has placed her special message in the baton to be read out at the opening of the games.

Three of our proud Fraser Coast baton-bearers are twelve year old Jade-Elle Brown, the youngest person in Queensland to receive a national bravery award for saving her sister Molly in an horrific car accident, Multi-award winning musician and humanitarian Keri McInerney, and everyone's 'little mate', Adam Moss who was diagnosed with cerebral palsy, spastic diplegia and Ataxia at a very young age, and encourages all of us to reach our full potential.

Each baton bearer runs or walks with the baton for about 200 metres, the baton is then passed on to the next carrier.

We asked Jade-Elle, Keri and Adam a few questions before the relay began.

Jade-Elle Brown

How do you feel about being picked as a Queens Baton Relay Bearer?

I feel happy grateful and proud and very excited. I am excited to carry the baton on Sunday

Queens Baton Relay arrives on the Fraser Coast

Written by Kim Parnell

March 25 in Maryborough and hope lots of people come to watch!

Are you excited/nervous about the Event?

I am excited and a little nervous because its a very rare opportunity for me to participate in.

You have been recognised for saving your sister Molly's life after a horrific car accident just over four years ago, what do remember about the accident, and how are you coping now?

I am coping better than I used to. I remember everything that occurred on that day from when we hopped in the car to when the truck crashed into us.

You received a Bravery Award for your heroic rescue, how did it feel to be recognised in this way?

It was an amazingly good surprise that had a happy impact on my life. I have met some amazing people through the Australian bravery association.

What would you like to be when you are an adult Jade-Elle?

I would like to be either an architect or a physiotherapist.

Keri McInerney

How do you feel about being picked as a Queens Baton Relay Bearer?

Being chosen as a Queens Baton Relay Bearer, makes me feel very humbled, honoured and extremely proud, to be representing my home town of Hervey Bay, Queensland and Australia in this International event. It's so wonderful to be given this accolade for my career achievements and also my community and charity work over these past years. It also makes me very proud to do this for my family who are just thrilled that this is happening. I do wish my mum was still alive to enjoy this wonderful moment with me, but

I know she will be running beside me on the day in spirit. I just feel so blessed to be a part of this amazing once in a life time experience.

Are you excited/nervous about the Event?

I'd have to say a little of both really. Excited because its going to be such a unique and special experience to share with all the other Baton Bearers and the local community and nervous because its such a huge thing, and very different to being up on stage performing. We carry the Queens personal hand written message for the Commonwealth Games, that's amazing!

You have been recognised for your humanitarian work and fund-raising efforts. Tell us a little about these?

I've always believed that my career gave me an spring board to give back to others. I did this by the creation of many charity events, community projects and mentor-ship programs. It's not all about me, I've got a big heart and genuinely care about other people and what I could do to help those aspiring artists and also those less fortunate individuals who just need a helping hand.

I've been involved in the organisation of many events, from two Flood Appeals one local and one state wide, with concerts being coordinated and all money raised going to assist the many people who had lost everything in the Queensland Floods. The 'Queensland Flood Appeal', gathered support state wide, with concerts in a number of regions. Everyone was so supportive and we helped a lot of people. I received a commendation from the Queensland Premier Anna Bligh for this concept. It was however just great to be able to help.

A few years later, I wrote and recorded a single for the Bali Appeal, which raised funds for victims, after the dreadful Bali attack. I was so honoured to receive commendations from the then Prime Minister Mr John Howard, The Queensland Premier, Mr Peter Beattie and the Member for Wide Bay (and former Deputy Prime Minister) Mr Warren Truss. So great to do something so worthwhile I have to say.

There have been many more projects that are memorable ones for me personally.

As a multi – award winning musician, what do you have coming up this year on the musical front?

I am currently in rehearsal with our new band line up, ready to tour my new album which is to be released very soon. I'm playing at a few festivals this year during our tour and will be performing with John Swan (Swannee) and a few other major performers in Adelaide in October, where we will be raising money for Pancreatic Cancer Research. I am also co-writing a song for the event. I am Looking forward to this very much. To read Keri's story in full go to: www.whatsonfrasercoast.com.au

Adam Moss

How do you feel about being picked as a Queens Baton Relay Bearer?

There are a lot of outstanding people in our community that are also worthy of this position, so I am very honoured to have been chosen out of all the people who were nominated.

Are you excited/nervous about the Event?

I am both excited and nervous at the same time. This is a once in a life time opportunity. I want my time carrying the baton to go slowly so I can enjoy the moment and remember it for ever.

You have been recognised for embracing life's challenges and inspiring others to give it a go. How do you achieve this day to day?

You only get one chance at life, so everyone should give it their all to make themselves the best person they possibly can. I like to encourage others with or without a disability to get out there and give everything a go. It doesn't matter if you win or come last, its about doing your best and accomplishing things that you never thought were possible.

What was it like to gain gold and silver medals at the National Cross Country Championships?

I never actually believed that I would become a member of the Queensland team let alone be a silver medallist, and then a gold medallist. Standing on the podium with a gold medal hanging around my neck was the proudest moment of my life. It was absolutely unbelievable, but at the same time I was tired and freezing cold and just wanted to go home for a hot bath and a lay down
- It was 5deg, raining and blowing a gale during my race.

What would you like to be when you are an adult Adam?

Obviously I would love to be an Olympian, but if not I guess I'll probably become a doctor. I love to help people and am not afraid of a little bit of blood and gore.

FLASHES

of K'gari and the Bay

As told by the Artist, Rolf Sieber

This exhibition showcases the beautiful, vivid and unique flora and fauna of K'gari [Fraser Island] and Hervey Bay.

The fantastic landscape is disappearing due to new developments. As an artist I would like to preserve these unique images on canvas for the generation to come in the Wide Bay Region. We are so privileged to live in close proximity to wildlife and almost untouched places like K'gari.

The exhibition takes you on a walk along the foreshores of Hervey Bay and the rainforest, the bush tracks and rugged shoreline of K'gari. these paintings also reflect the striking sunrises and sunsets, light and shades which bring dynamic into the landscape. The concept of my artworks are always innovative, and challenging I like to capture nature in a flash. That makes a painting fresh and real.

In 1999 I retired and we moved from Sydney to Hervey Bay. The beautiful beaches and the tranquil surroundings of Hervey Bay and Fraser Island inspired me to fulfil my childhood dream to become an artist. I joined the Hervey Bay Art Society to be with like minded people and learn to paint. Over the years I became an active member of the Society and at present I am the President of the Society.

I furthered my knowledge in theory and techniques at the local TAFE College and finished with a diploma of Visual Art with distinction. I have participated in art competitions throughout Queensland and won many awards, I also have had quite a number of solo exhibitions at Gatakers Artspace, Gayndah Art Gallery, Mundubbera Art Gallery and at our local Hervey Bay Regional Gallery.

One of the highlights in my painting career was a grant in 2005 from the Regional Art Development Fund to sponsor Cec Woodland and myself to develop an outdoor experience (free to air painting) on Fraser Island. Cec and myself spent days on the island tramping over sand hills and bush tracks, lugging our painting gear in backpacks, painting, sketching and photographing the islands natural charm, using the ever changing light through the forest to achieve some great and lovely results. Rather than painting the usual tourist scene, we concentrated on flora and the natural beauty and wilderness of the island.

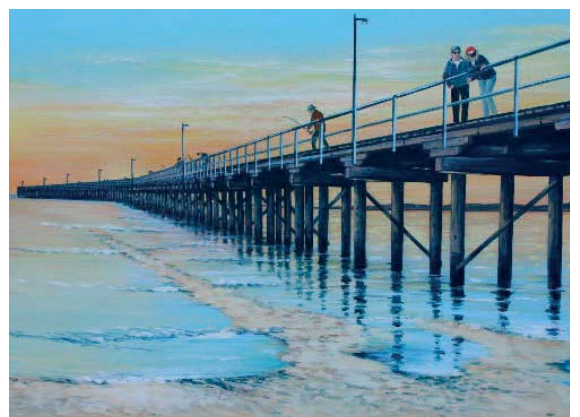

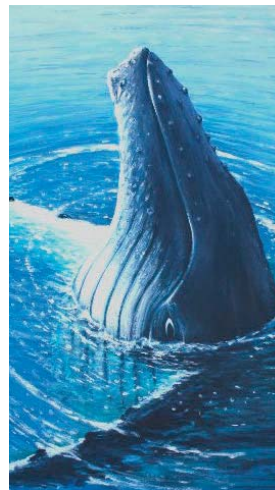

We subsequently spent nearly two months completing our artworks. At the end of the project the artworks were displayed in the foyer of the Hervey Bay Regional Gallery. The exhibition was a big success, we sold nearly all the paintings and it helped to develop a local awareness of art in Hervey Bay.

The experience and the memories of those days are still the main focus of my work. I invite the public to pause through the exhibition and take a look at the wonderful areas that surround Hervey Bay and Fraser Island, which are captured on canvas. You might stop and admire some of the paintings. Next time when you go for a walk take a look at the wonders that could easily be overlooked. I hope you enjoy the exhibition and my artworks.

ITALY

VITELLO TONNATO or VITEL TONNE'

Guest Recipe: Chef Rocco -Villa Cavour B&B

The region of Italy where we come from is Piemonte, on the French border of the Alps. One of the traditional dishes of Piemonte is "Vitello Tonnato" or "Vitel Tonné" (Beef with tuna sauce). Its origin takes place back in the 1700 and it became part of the history of Piemonte also thanks to the "acciugai" (early merchants of anchovies). Anchovies were caught and prepared on the Italian coastal region of Liguria and then transported on the "via del sale" (salt way) to the rest of Europe, through the region of Piemonte.

At Villa Cavour B&B we always offer this dish to our guests to let them experience one of our iconic recipes and a true taste of our home.

Ingredients for 4/6 people

For the meat:

- * 500 grams of beef (Chunk tender or magatello)
- * 1 carrot, a stalk of celery, 1 onion, 1 bay leaf;
- * 1 glass of white wine.
- * ½ glass of Extra virgin olive oil
- * Salt and pepper

Boil the meat until it reaches a light pink colour. Leave to cool down and then slice the meat in thin slices. Keep the broth that the meat has been cooked in.

For the traditional sauce:

- * 2 boiled eggs
- * 5/6 capers
- * 100 grams tuna (in olive oil)
- * 5 anchovies fillets (in olive oil)
- * 1 cup of the broth where the meat has been cooked in
- * Juice of ½ a lemon

Put in a blender the tuna (drained from the oil), the broth, the eggs and start to blend. Then add the capers and the anchovies and the lemon, blend until the sauce is smooth and creamy.

Put the sauce on top of the slices of meat; your choice to cover them completely, or leave some sauce on the side, to add.

For the sauce with the mayonnaise:

- * 1 egg + 1 yolk
- * 1 glass olive oil
- * Juice of ½ lemon
- * Salt and pepper
- * 100 grams tuna (in olive oil)
- * 5/6 capers
- * 5 anchovies fillets (in olive oil)

In a blender put the egg and the yolk, salt and start to blend, adding the oil, to make the mayonnaise. Add the lemon juice.

When the mayonnaise is ready, add the other ingredients and mix, to obtain a creamy sauce. Serve the meat sliced and cover with the sauce.

Dawn Albinger

Louise Kneeshaw

International Women's Day is celebrated throughout the world on March 8 each and every year. This day pays tribute to the early movement for women's rights. We look back and see how far we have come and how much work there is still left to do.

Countries around the world may celebrate in different ways but the day is about women being supportive, educating each other, celebrating our achievements and raising awareness. It is also a great day to donate to a women's group or charity, to volunteer or to tell your story.

Fast fact: Did you know that both China and Madagascar have an official holiday for women on this day. - Kim, Editor.

Classic Easter Games for the whole family to enjoy

Written by Kim Parnell

Bunnies, eggs, chicks – Easter is fast approaching. While it is important to not forget the true meaning of Easter, and the significance of the day, It is also a great time to engage with each other, to put down the mobile phone, the Ipad, the Play-station controller, and everything else that is a distraction. Why not plan one of the fun games listed below and get the whole family involved.

The Egg Knocking Game

The person that you are playing against holds up an Easter Egg and taps it against your egg. The winner is declared by the person whose egg remains whole with no cracks.

The Easter Egg Hunt

Hide enough eggs for each of the children to find. I actually used to enjoy playing hot and cold with my children, when they got close to where I knew I had hidden an egg I would say warm, then hot, then hotter until they found the egg. If they were a long way of I would say cold.

Easter egg race

This is a great game for a bigger group of kids. Just divide the group into two-man teams, each team gets two cardboard eggs, (just cut-out some ovals in cardboard). Place one egg on the ground and get one of the team-mates to stand on it. The other team-mate places the second egg in front of him and the first team-mate has to hop onto the second egg, meanwhile the first egg has been moved to the front again. You keep this up until the finish line is passed. The winner is the first team across the line.

Easter egg painting

Growing up as a child I was always fascinated with painted eggs. Every Easter our mother would boil eggs and then paint them with funny faces or landscapes etc. you never knew what you were going to get. As we got older we were able to paint our own eggs and had many a laugh. If you don't have paints use felt tip pens instead. Just make sure the outside of the egg is dry and that it has cooled slightly – Oh, and don't forget to eat the egg when you have finished painting it.

SOMETHING 'heavenly' IS PREPARING TO ROCK THE LOCAL REGION THIS COMING MARCH

On the back of a very successful year of performances in 2017, Hervey Bay's Z-Pac theatre is looking to kick off the coming year with a bang! The first cab off the rank in Z-Pac's 2018 line-up is the immensely popular rock musical Godspell! The musical 'Godspell' has been successfully performed all around the world – most notably were its successful runs on both West End and Broadway. It was first produced in 1971, but despite being on the cusp of 50 years old, is still exceedingly popular with audiences from all walks of life.

The story of 'Godspell' is based on the Gospel according to St Matthew. It deals with the last days of Jesus, and includes dramatised versions of several well-known parables. It should be stressed though, that this musical is so much more than your average Sunday-school lesson. 'Godspell' is a theatrical experience, a demonstration of joy, and a celebration of the 'family of man'. In 'Godspell' the cast are conceived as clowns. They improvise scenery and costumes, and use theatrical devices like pantomime, vaudeville, and varied musical styles to interpret the many lessons that the bible has to offer. Z-Pac Theatre's upcoming production of Godspell, under the direction of Tim Holstein and Cherie Treloar, and musical direction of Kyle Downes, will breathe new life into this classic musical by inserting it into a contemporary setting. The Cast will be equipped with iPads, mobile phones and laptops; the revised script is loaded with a huge variety of pop-culture references; and there is an amazingly talented rock band to keep audiences entertained. They have even added in the 'Godspell Rock Choir'- which is a choir of amazing local singers of all ages that support the main cast with their angelic "wall of sound".

Godspell performs at Z-Pac theatre with 7 performances over the two weekends before Easter. The dates of the performances are March 16, 17, 23, 24 at 7:30pm and March 18, 24, 25 at 2pm. Tickets priced from $10-25 and are available online at www.zpactheatre.com, or can be purchased at the theatre box office Friday mornings 9-12. Be sure to get your tickets now as seating is strictly limited. For more information on Godspell or other upcoming Z-Pac shows, be sure to check out their website or phone Z-PAC President Liane Mills on 0418 712636.

Kat THOMPSON

BREAST CANCER SURVIVOR AND SO BRAVE MODEL AMBASSADOR

KAT THOMPSON, YOUNG BREAST CANCER SURVIVOR HAS BEEN CHOSEN AS A SO BRAVE MODEL AND AMBASSADOR FOR THE 2019 CALENDAR AND CAMPAIGN

So Brave Ambassador - Kat Thompson

Local resident of Hervey Bay and breast cancer survivor, Kat Thompson 41 has been chosen to be one of So Brave's 2018 Model Ambassadors. As part of a year long program of empowerment, each Model Ambassador will host fund-raising events and share her experience with breast cancer with the community to raise awareness that young women are also at risk and need to be breast aware. In 2018, So Brave will focus on awareness and education – presenting at schools, universities and among the medical community to share our stories and raise awareness across the community.

Each model will also participate in So Brave's Breast Cancer Fund-raiser Calendar – an incredibly inspiring, colourful, empowering visual representation of the metamorphosis that each young woman has gone through. Each model is painted in full body paint and photographed for the incredibly body-positive calendar – to be launched later in 2018.

The calendar includes tips about breast care and breast health for women under 40. The calendar also shares the models and brand ambassador's stories.

The calendar aims to create awareness for breast cancer in young women and fund breast cancer research to better prevent, diagnose, monitor and treat breast cancer, especially in young women.

Founder and CEO of So Brave, and Breast Cancer Survivor, Rachelle Panitz, states:

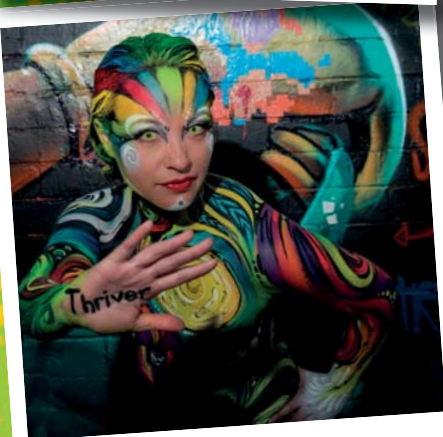

"2018 is set to be So Brave's biggest year yet and we're finally travelling across the country to Tasmania and Western Australia. We will continue to empower young women with breast cancer. We have chosen 12 brave young women from all over Australia to participate in this year's So Brave Breast Cancer Fund-raiser Calendar. All of these model ambassadors have been diagnosed with breast cancer before they turned 40."

The 2017 and 2018 calendars were successfully launched in 2016 and 2017 respectively. Models will begin to be painted with body paint and photographed for the 2019 calendar as early as February.

Your local breast cancer survivor, Kat Thompson, will be photographed in April. Sponsor of Kat's page in the 2019 Calendar is Kingston Hervey Bay. Spokesperson Tracey Messer said, "Breast Cancer touches everybody's lives, every little bit that we can do helps. It is our way of giving back".

Kat shares some of her story here:

My journey with breast cancer began when I was diagnosed with triple negative breast cancer in late 2016 just after celebrating my youngest daughter, Daisy's 1st birthday returning to my job at a local law firm after my maternity leave and trying to live my life. I have 4 daughters and at that stage they were aged 1, 2, 15 and 18 years, my life was busy and so brilliant. From that point my life took a turn, I was shattered and shocked that at this young I'd been diagnosed with breast cancer, I didn't ever think that this would happen to me! My world and my family's world was rocked and turned on its head!! Over the next 12 months I underwent 2 operations to remove tumour in my breast and I had biopsies on my underarm lymph nodes with 2 removed. Then the chemotherapy started. I was hospitalised regularly for infections and severe side effects and then once that was done I underwent 30 radiotherapy treatments. I was in and out of hospital and medical appointments. I feel I have to now share my story to get other women regularly self checking, being breast aware and to help others understand and who may not know that breast cancer can present itself in any woman, it is not selective!

I'm so pleased and excited to be helping So Brave with their mission. If I can help to save even one person from my experience, or worse, it'll be worth it.

Rachelle adds: "Fund-raising from the 2019 calendar will support So Brave's Research Grants Program which will fund research to educate, prevent, diagnose, treat and monitor breast cancer in young women under 40."

$1 from every 2019 Calendar sold will also be donated to the McGrath Foundation to continue our support of this fantastic organisation from our 2017 year of regional focus. We are proud to continue to support their 'angels on earth' the McGrath Breast Care Nurses in this way".

Kat would like to give the following tips to young women to educate them about breast cancer:

Take time out every month to self check your breasts, be aware of how they look, how they feel and if there are any changes from the last check or the one before. Don't be afraid to approach your GP about them. Follow the many self check info sheets available. Talk to your girlfriends, husbands, mums, boyfriends etc they're your support and listening ears.

Always listen to your inner voice, you know deep down what's going on with your breasts and if you don't then find out.

Kat would like to share the following with other breast cancer survivors and people who are currently going through breast cancer:

"You've got this! Don't be scared about breast cancer, don't let it get you down. Kick its butt, life is beautiful and stay strong!"

YOUR FIRST JOB IS JUST A FEW TIPS AWAY

– With Youth Columnist, Jacob Kitson-Holebrook

When it comes to finding a job for us younger members of the Fraser Coast community it really can be challenging. These challenges can arise anywhere along the process from applying for the job, going for the interview, and/or learning what to do when you do actually get the job.

There are ways though, that you can make yourself stand out from the crowd when it comes to all three of these challenging moments.

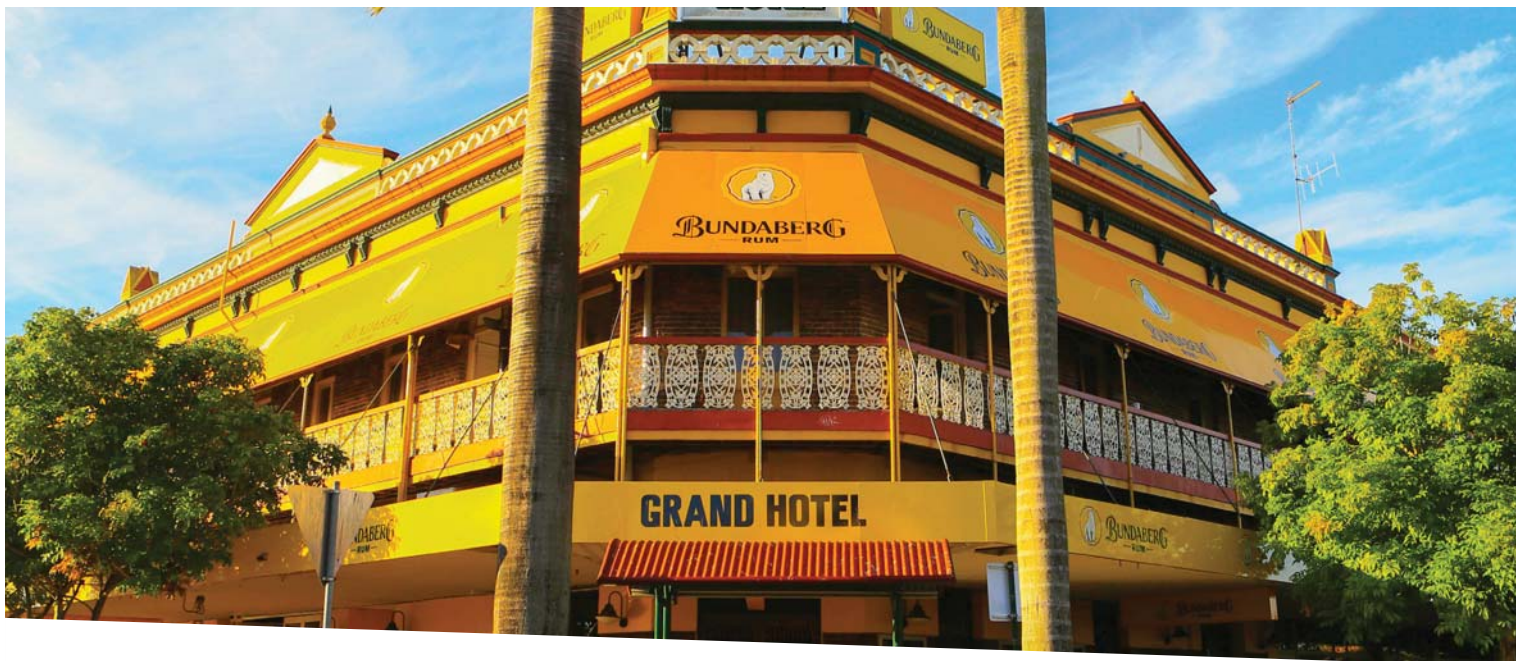

Firstly when your applying for the job in person, make sure that you are dressed well and are clean and tidy - sounds simple doesn't it but you would be surprised at how many of us just rock up with our CV's in hand looking like we just got out of bed! Next tip - when you go into the business, you have to make sure that the first thing you do when you meet the manager is introduce yourself with confidence and shake their hand. Keep the eye contact up all the time as well - speaks volumes to your maturity and your manners. When you haven't been employed before, first impressions count far more than your CV. You need to sell yourself.

If all goes well you will get to the interview stage and it's at this point you have to make sure that you are very clear with your words and again make sure that you keep up the eye contact when being spoken too. Do yourself a favour and do a bit of research on the business before the interview and don't be shy when it comes to answering questions.

With any luck you have aced the interview and you are ready to go to your first shift. There are many things that you can do to make this day as good as possible, firstly be on time, secondly be in the right frame of mind and thirdly make sure that when you get there you are ready to listen and learn - and don't forget to relax and let the amazing YOU shine through.

These are just some simple things that everyone can do, even the more mature people on the Fraser Coast that are looking for jobs can take these tips and use them to help get a new job. Happy job getting everyone.

Catering for large commercial to bespoke boutique, we can handle all of your signage needs.

Boys IN THE BAND

WILL ENTERTAIN YOU

Come on, who doesn't like a boy band. With those great harmonies, coordinated dance moves and looks to melt the heart. Well let me tell you that Boys in the Band will not disappoint in all categories. Singing hits from all of our favourite boy bands, from the Jackson 5 to Simon & Garfunkel they have it all covered. So get your mojo on with the Boys in the Band coming to Maryborough this month.

I caught up with one of the boys, Tom Struik a few weeks ago to chat about the show. This will be his third tour with the boys.

Oh, and if the surname sounds familiar that is because I interviewed his equally talented sister Katie for the magazine in June of last year.

- Kim - Editor

What a talented family you have, I did an interview with your sister Katie last year, how is she, do you get to catch up and come home very often?

My Girlfriend and I come to Hervey Bay a bit, mostly at Christmas time. I catch up with Katie a fair amount as I visit her in Sydney, she looks after me really well, I am her baby brother, even though I am twenty five I will always be her baby brother.

So what is the story behind Boys in the Band?

Boys in the Band is a group of four boys singing, with a live band behind us. We sing everything from Jersey Boys to Jackson 5 and everything in between. We celebrate every genre that we can, and attract every audience right through to Grandma and Granddad.

I read that the band have performed alongside some pretty amazing artists & Bands, in various locations name your most memorable?

My two favourites would have to be performing in the Twilight Series at both the Sydney and the Melbourne Zoo. They set up a huge Amphitheatre outside and the audience was massive. So we were performing on stage with the sound of Elephants trumpeting in the background, it really was an amazing experience.

We also recently did the Toowoomba Flower Festival and Daryl Braithwaite was in the line-up. Another year there was Taxiride. The flower festival was a big set-up with a massive stage.

What do you love most about Hervey Bay, what are some of your best memories?

My dad owns the local Cinema. I always used to hang out there. I would also go to the beach, the Esplanade is definitely the best place to grow up.

What do you think that it is that people love the most about boy bands?

Boy bands are so personal, and lets face it we are handsome young dudes, ha,ha. We find that people want to be like us, honestly what is there not to like. Plus we also have some great dance moves.

How often do all of you practise?

With our Corporate Gigs we do them so often that we don't really need to rehearse, we know this show back to front as we have been performing for a long time.

Having said that though we have just finished a ten day gruelling rehearsal in Sydney practising some new material, One of those being an Aussie Rock Medley.

What can people expect if they come to see your show?

People can expect a great night out, lots of music and some fantastic dance moves. There will be lots of sing a longs as well. If you have seen our show before you will get to see us performing some new stuff too.

Do you have a special message for the people of the Fraser Coast?

Make sure that you get to the Brolga and watch our show. You will not be disappointed, we look forward to entertaining you. See you there!

'EVERYONE belongs'

Welcome to all on Harmony Day

The Hervey Bay Neighbourhood Centre is inviting migrants in particular, and community members as well to an 'Aussie Style Morning Tea' to celebrate Harmony Day on Wednesday 21 March at 10am.

We will be celebrating the richness of our cultural diversity through the Harmony Day message of "Everyone belongs".

Community Action for a Multicultural Society (CAMS) Coordinator, Robyn Edward said that the aim this year is to promote the theme of being a 'Welcoming City'. "I consider that this theme really fits well with the 'everyone belongs' message that is the central focus of this year's Harmony Day celebrations and activities.

"We usually celebrate this day with the multicultural community, however, this year I thought it would be a great idea to invite the general public along to come together and share, learn and appreciate our community's diversity.

"I attended the recent Australia Day event here at the Hervey Bay Community Centre and noted how surprised the group were when a show of hands indicated how many attending were born overseas.

"Bringing our communities together through food, music and entertainment plays an important role in promoting our cultural diversity. It creates an opportunity to think, talk about and recognise how our differences and our similarities make Australia a great place to live."

The Hervey Bay Neighbourhood Centre is hoping to get a good roll up as this demonstrates the importance and commitment we all have towards cultural diversity. If local organisations and service clubs want to bring along a group then we would like to hear from them to ensure the catering can cope by calling 4194 3000."

CAMS's Racism. It Stops With Me! group members are looking for opportunities to address local schools on March 21. The Harmony Day theme for schools this year is Racism.

No Way. "I consider that by opening young students' mind to them embracing diversity tomorrow's world will be a better place," Robyn said.

Vox Pop

On the tail of the very successful By the C Concert that saw the likes of Abbey Stone, Ross Wilson, The Black Sorrows, Jon Stevens and John Farnham descend on the bay in one epic concert, I started thinking about what would be my dream line up in a concert. I am definitely going through a modern country music phase at the moment. If I close my eyes I can see some International acts right here on the Fraser Coast and at the top of my list would be Tim McGraw & Faith Hill. These two sizzle on stage, and have the most beautiful harmonies. - Kim Parnell, Editor

Question: If you could pick your dream concert line-up who would you choose?

"That's easy, definitely John Farnham. He is a really good entertainer. He actually sent me a 50th Birthday card, I have been to twelve of his concerts to date".

Cathy Cassell, Wondunna

"Wow, if only Dean Martin was alive, what a concert that would have been. He was such a gorgeous person and sang some very romantic songs, his voice was beautiful".

Cheryl Virgo, Scarness

"Matchbox 20, Nickelback, and Bon Jovi. The concert would definitely draw more people to the Fraser Coast, so would be great for tourism".

David Lukacs,
Wide Bay Motor Group

"For me my dream concert line-up would be Billy Joel, Bruce Springsteen, and Ed Sheeran, all of these artists are easy to listen to and relate-able to all of us".

Lisa Kenny,
